

PRINCESS LILA AND THE LITTLE DRAGON WHO WAS AFRAID TO FLY

A Story About Courage, Friendship, and Trying Again

The stars are going out.

One by one, the stars above Elara's kingdom are quietly disappearing. When a small star with a bent point tumbles into her roses, Elara sets out past the thorn hedge to find the secret garden where stars are grown.

On the way she stops to mend a moth's torn wing — a small kindness, and a costly one. At the top of the hill waits a golden gate with no handle and no key, carved with three words: Kindness opens me.

A bedtime story about the kind of courage that is quiet — for ages 3 to 7.
